Situation:

Over 300,000 international students from all four corners of the world study in Germany. As Hochschul-SMD International, we want to welcome these students and offer them friendship and support. We also want to get into discussions with them over the Christian faith. Most will go back to responsible positions in their homelands where they will have the opportunity to share God's love. Fundamental is the willingness to work with students, enabling them to reach others.

The SMD is a network of Christians in schools, universities and professions. Local initiatives for international students exist in over 30 cities—e.g. open cafés, searcher Bible groups, international cooking evenings and German courses.

The SMD is one of over 160 national student organisations in the International Fellowship of Evangelical Students (IFES).
